Terra Mariae
School of Pharmacy
University of Maryland

20 North Pine Street . Baltimore . Maryland . 21201

The Terra Mariae is one of the many voices of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy. But unlike the bulletins, brochures, campus newspapers and emails about the school that you have received over the years, the 2004 Terra Mariae is a keeper! It is an extension of the school, a sampling, through photographs, of the programs, people, places and things that you chose to become the lasting memories of your experiences here. As you turn the pages, you will relive semesters that you never thought would end, and examinations and other ordeals that you never thought you could endure. But endure you did!

Terra Mariae captures some of milestones and achievements of you and your classmates at the School of Pharmacy, as you prepared for your profession and your career of caring. From the Eastern Shore, through the megapolis of central Maryland, to mountains of western Maryland, you learned what it takes to be a Maryland- Brand Pharmacist.

You have made me very proud of your accomplishments! Now build upon them, and outdo them, as you serve the profession of pharmacy.

When future pharmacy students look to the leaders of their profession, providing role models for them, mentoring and precepting them during their studies, they will find you. When you look at the 2004 Terra Mariae with them, you can show them the roots of your success here at the University of Maryland.

Congratulations and good luck!

Class of Two Thousand Four
by Bill Groh

Just when you thought you could take no more,
It is your graduation day, May 2004.
Oh yes you can look back at your last 4 years,
When you laughed and even had a few tears.

You were so happy while taking your 1st year,
Then came the second one when pharmacology brought on some fear.
And what about your 3rd year when you just sat,
Through hours and hours of something called ISAT.

So now that you completed all those rotations and classes of law,
State boards will prove to everyone that you are indeed a know it all.
But before you leave and start your career,
Just take a moment to remember who got you here.

Your professors each day went to a great length,
To help you along which gave you that needed strength.
They saw things in you that you didn't know you had,
They brought them out both the good and the bad.

So beloved Class of 2004,
It is over, finished there is no more.
So now you are going into the world which will be your final test,
Show the world that this school has given them only the best.

Phi Lambda Sigma

The purpose of Phi Lambda Sigma, also known as the national Pharmacy Leadership Society, is to promote the development of leadership qualities, especially among pharmacy students. By peer recognition, the Society encourages participation in all pharmacy activities. Since membership crosses fraternal and organizational lines, the Society does not compete with other pharmacy organizations.

Phi Lambda Sigma is complementary to Rho Chi in that it honors leadership, while Rho Chi honors scholastic achievement. Members are selected by peer recognition. No greater honor can be bestowed upon an individual than to be recognized as a leader by one's peers. Such recognition instills and enhances self-confidence, encourages the less active student to a more active role and promotes greater effort toward the advancement of pharmacy.

The Academy of Managed Care Pharmacy

AMCP is a professional association of pharmacists and associates who serve patients and the public through the promotion of wellness and rational drug therapy by the application of managed care principles. The mission of AMCP is to serve as an organization through which the membership pursues its common goals; to provide leadership and support for its members; to represent its members before private and public agencies and health care professional organizations; and to advance pharmacy practice in managed health care systems.

American Society of Health System Pharmacist

ASHP is the 30,000 member national professional organization that represents pharmacists who practice in hospitals, health maintenance organizations, long-term care facilities, home care and other components of health care systems. ASHP, which has a long history of medication- error prevention efforts, believes that mission of pharmacists is to help people make the best use of medicines. Assisting pharmacists in fulfilling this mission is ASHP's primary objective.

The mission of the University of Maryland student chapter of ASHP/MSHP is to make students aware of pharmacy practice in health systems; provide information to students about career directions in and credentials needed for pharmacy practice in health systems; and encourage membership and participation in ASHP and MSHP as a student and upon graduation. In addition, the UM chapter of ASHP/MSHP encourages interaction among professional organizations in the School of Pharmacy and with other professional schools in the UM campus.

Purpose:

The APhA Academy of Students of Pharmacy (APhA-ASP) is the student section of the American Pharmaceutical Association (APhA), representing over 18,000 pharmacy students at all schools in the United States and Puerto Rico.

Mission:

The mission of the APhA Academy of Students of Pharmacy is to be the collective voice of pharmacy students and to prepare pharmacy students to be professionals who provide and promote pharmaceutical care.

American Society of Consultant Pharmacists

ASCP is the international professional association that provides leadership, education, advocacy, and resources to advance the practice of senior care pharmacy enabling consultant pharmacists to enhance the quality of care and quality of life for individuals through the provision of pharmaceutical care and the promotion of healthy aging. Consultant pharmacists specializing in senior care pharmacy practice are essential participants in the health care system, recognized and valued for the practice of pharmaceutical care for the senior population and people with chronic illness. In their role as medication therapy experts, consultant pharmacists take responsibility for their patients' medication-related needs; ensure that their patients' medications are the most appropriate, the most effective, the safest possible, and are used correctly; and identify, resolve, and prevent medication-related problems that may interfere with the goals of therapy.

ASCP members manage and improve drug therapy and improve the quality of life of geriatric patients and other individuals residing in a variety of environments, including nursing facilities, subacute care and assisted living facilities, psychiatric hospitals, hospice programs, and home and community-based care. The goals of the University of Maryland, Baltimore Student Chapter are to increase awareness of the opportunities available in the field of consultant pharmacy and to provide relevant educational programs to help prepare students for this exciting field. Currently, the UMB Student Chapter is the largest student chapter in the nation.

Mission:

1) We are dedicated to the continuing growth and prosperity of independent community pharmacy in the United States.

2) We are the national pharmacy association representing the professional and proprietary interests of independent community pharmacists and will vigorously promote and defend those interests.

3) We are committed to high-quality pharmacist care and to restoring, maintaining, and promoting the health and well-being of the public we serve.

4) We believe in the inherent virtues of the American free enterprise system and will do all we can to ensure the ability of independent community pharmacists to compete in a free and fair marketplace.

5) We value the right to petition the appropriate legislative and regulatory bodies to serve the needs of those we represent.

6) We will utilize our resources to achieve these ends in an ethical and socially responsible manner.

The Student Committee on Drug Abuse Education (SCODAE) is a voluntary organization made up of University of Maryland pharmacy students. This organization receives guidance from faculty members at the University of Maryland Office of Substance Abuse Studies. SCODAE members teach drug and alcohol education to audiences of middle school children, parents, and education professionals throughout Maryland. The SCODAE presentations provide accurate and unbiased drug and alcohol information in order to prevent abuse and addiction within the community.

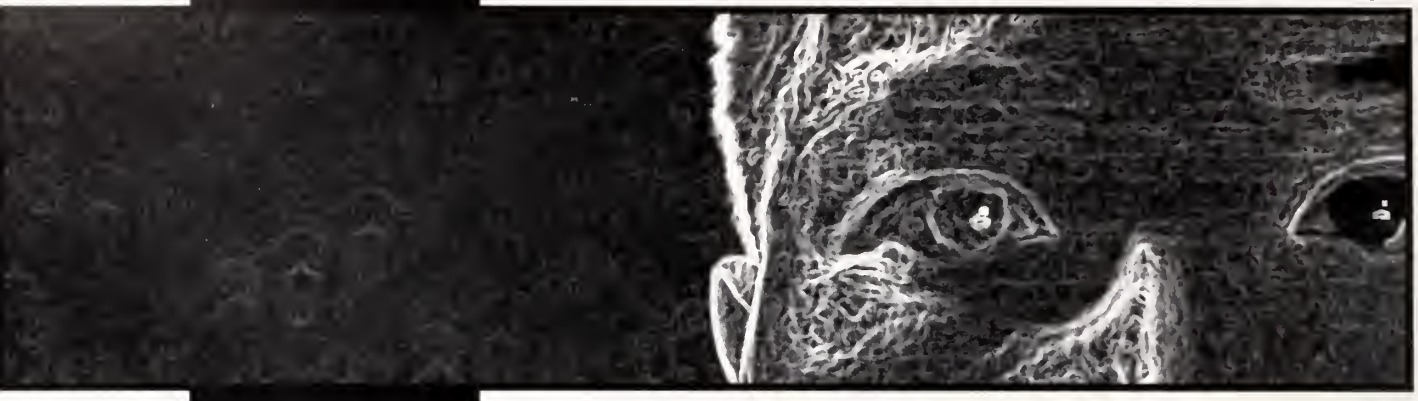
editor's comments



Thank you Class of 2004 for allowing me to be apart of your year. It was my previledge to have served as your yearbook editor and in doing so I thank you for allowing me to share a part of your last year here at UMB-SOP. When I started the year I had not known many of you, but after a year of compiling your pictures, stories and comments, I felt like every single one of you have become a close friend.

I've tried to write this yearbook as though it were in dedication to each and everyone one of the graduating seniors. I've tried to capture a glimpse of your memories here at the school of pharmacy and I've done my best to play the minimalist role and allow you to remember your own stories and memories of these hollowed halls. I hope that you enjoy these pages of memories, these leaves of character and this chronicle of years.

Additionally I would like to thank Hyun Lee, your class historian, for all of her hard work in gathering your memories, for the sales of Terra Mariae and for putting up with me. I would like to thank Michelle for her help in standing by me this past year and helping me through the hard times and celebrating with me through the good ones.

In closing, I hope all your lives are successful ones and all your dreams becomes reality and the road ahead of you is paved with love, friendship and happiness. PLEASE drop me a line and tell me how you are doing <khoi.lam@gmail.com> and should you ever have some time please share your experiences in the real world of pharmacy practice with those following in your footsteps <www.studentpharmacist.com>.

Most Respectfully,

KHOI NGUYEN LAM
2004 Terra Mariae Editor

NEWS

u.s. troops in iraq

The biggest news event of 2003 was unquestionably President Bush's decision to employ American armed forces to oust Iraqi dictator Saddam Hussein. The regime was toppled quickly, forcing Hussein and top members of his Baath political party into hiding. After an exhaustive manhunt, U.S. forces captured Hussein in a small underground hiding area on the banks of the Tigris River.

MOVIES

an epic conclusion

In 2003, the one film at the top of everyone's must-see list was The Return of the King. In the final chapter of The Lord of the Rings trilogy, Frodo (Elijah Wood) journeys to Mount Doom to dispose of a very dangerous piece of jewelry. Meanwhile, Aragorn (Viggo Mortensen) and Gandalf (Ian McKellen) lead humanity in one last stand against Sauron's massive army of Orcs and airplane-sized elephants. Will the One Ring be destroyed? Will humanity survive? Will director Peter Jackson finally get a Best Picture Oscar® for his amazing work? All of Middle Earth wants to know....

MUSIC

workin' it at the vmas

As always, the MTV Video Music Awards provided many of the year's most memorable music moments. Coldplay got accolades for Breakthrough Video, '80s popsters Duran Duran won an award for Lifetime Achievement, Justin got the nod for Male Performer of the Year, and Missy strode off with the coveted Video of the Year award for "Work It." To top it all off, the King of Pop saw some of his biggest hits covered with extreme vehemence by Lars and the gents from Metallica.

TRENDS

to swap or not to swap

With the launch of Napster V2.0 and the new iTunes music store, the Internet continued to reshape the way we listen to music in 2003. But not all was rosy on the World Wide Web. Fearing that online music swapping was eroding profits, the Recording Industry Association of America (RIAA) tried to curb unlicensed music downloads by supporting litigation against alleged copyright violators.

TECH GEAR

the future is digital

The march toward the digitalization of everything continued in 2003. Music fans embraced ones and zeros, downloading MP3s from iTunes and other new sites. Digital cameras became more affordable and more powerful, while cell phones integrated a host of functions, from MP3 playback to digital photography to video games. Even the family pet got in on the digital act, as Sony unveiled the newest version of its AIBO robotic pooch.

With a built-in MP3 player, stereo FM radio and digital recorder, the Nokia 3300 music phone is perfect for anyone who wants to talk…or just listen to some great music.

TELEVISION

Fear factor

a little too real

Impossible to believe but true–2003 saw even more reality shows on TV than the year before. It seemed every person on the planet was being followed by a camera crew, from those searching for love (The Bachelor, The Bachelorette, For Love or Money, Average Joe, Joe Millionaire) to those seeking adventure (Fear Factor, Survivor, Road Rules, Beg, Borrow and Deal) to those looking for a sixteenth minute of fame (The Surreal Life). Of course, the show that started the craze, The Real World, was still going strong on MTV. Just promise us, please, no more Puck.
